August 3d. There are signs of a coalition forming; I shall not give them time to complete it; it i.s not right that Austria, by .such equivwal conduct, .should hold 800,000 men at attention on the .shores of the Channel. The court of Vienna will have to come out of its ambiguous attitude, and if Vienna is so mad an to attempt the fortune of war again, and listen to the .suggestions of London, woe betide the Austrian monarchy!

0th. The police commissioner tit Boulogne is an-excellent young man, but very young; at his age it is not possible to realize the depth of human perversity.

17th. The ceremony went oil splendidly yesterday, except for a high wind. The spectacle was novel ami imposing. Rarely have so many bayonets IMH*» seen together,

September 3d, Aix-la~Chapelle:

I must have a talk with Villeneuve about the great plan hia fleet 5s to carry out, Oth. (To Vice-Admiral (ianteaume,) If you could carry 10,0(M) men and 1000 horses to Ireland in November, it would IH* fatal to our enemies. Tell me if you could be ready, and what are the probabilities of «um»jw. Have a tulk with the Irish general O'Connor ninmt tine points where we might disembark,

1 have no nnval commander*. I would like to create a few rear-admirals, but I would prefer to nefact the men who showed most promise, regtirdlwt of seniority,

l£th, Cutitla of La H»ye, near Gurltkrx:

I am here to-day in a little cuttle cm the border of the Empire. I visited dwelt yentarday, and mn going to Vealoo tali morning. It was time thin country wan looked
